mean = 0.266

K-means cluster separation

The two-cluster K-means partition separates most observations into a larger, lower-volatility group and a smaller, higher-volatility group. The silhouette score indicates moderate separation with limited ov t perfectly non-overlapping.